Have you recently separated or divorced and need to develop a parenting plan or property agreement?

Conflict can be stressful for children, leading to ongoing emotional, social and behaviour issues. Consider engaging with an experienced and accredited Family Dispute Resolution Practitioner (FDRP).

Family Dispute Resolution is a special type of mediation for helping separating families (with or without children) discuss the issues, consider the different options and reach an agreement. Issues can include pet care arrangements and personal property disputes.

Anglicare Tasmania's experienced and accredited FDRP will meet with each party separately to discuss any needs and concerns, gather important details and define agenda. Both parties will then meet with the FDRP in a joint session to work towards reaching a signed agreement.

Our fee-based service will encourage and assist the parties to:

- Clarify any important issues
- Communicate in a respectful way
- Listen to each other
- If children are involved, focus on their needs
- Find an outcome that is fair for everyone
